Some increase is to be noted in the income from admissions; this was, however, more than offset by expenditures for extensive repairs to some of the older buildings at the Gardens, which were so thoroughly executed during the summer, that no great outlay for such purpose is anticipated during the coming year.

The continued interest and benefit derived by the children of the Public Schools from visiting the Gardens under guidance of their teachers, is most gratifying. It is an obvious duty that all means for their instruction growing out of the facilities of the Gardens should be fully developed, and with this object a plan is under consideration for holding a course of lectures on zoological subjects, at the Gardens, during the season when it is most visited by the children. These would be especially useful to the older grades of pupils as well as to the teachers, and it can hardly be doubted that such a course would be welcomed by both.

Some expense would be incurred in carrying out this scheme in a worthy manner—more than would be justified in the closely balanced state of the Society's present finances—but if the means can be provided, the chief obstacle to its fulfillment will be removed.

The death of two members, of exceptionally long service in the Board, has occurred since the last report; General I. J. Wistar, who was elected September 25th, 1873, and J. Vaughan Merrick, Esq., who became a member at the reorganization of the society, March 14th, 1872. Each of these gentlemen bore a conspicuous part in the laborious work of establishing the Gardens, and the value of their efforts should meet with lasting recognition.

GARDENS AND MENAGERIE.

The whole number of animals on exhibition during the year was:—

Mammals.....	571
Birds.....	868
Reptiles.....	813
Batrachians.....	145
	<hr/>
	2,397

Of the accessions the following were new to the collection:—

MAMMALS.

1. Semnopithecus johnei Fisch. Nilgiri Monkey.
Hab., southern India.
One specimen of this fine langur monkey. Purchased May 9th.
2. Papio langheldi Matschie. Langheld's Baboon.
Hab., eastern Africa.
This species seems to be well distinguished from the yellow baboon, both by color and by the great length of its arms and legs. It is rare in collections, and as far as is yet known, comes from the region between the Victoria Nyanza and the coast. A male was purchased on March 9th.

3. Paradoxurus grayi Benn. Gray's Paradoxure.
Hab., India; Assam.
One specimen. Purchased June 9th.
4. Mustela foina Erxl. Beech Martin.
Hab., Europe.
This species ranges from central Europe to Persia.
One specimen. Purchased September 21st.
5. Putorius frenatus Licht. Bridled Weasel.
Hab., Mexico; southern Texas.
A subtropical species, of which an example was received in August from Brownsville, Texas.
6. Hemitragus jemlaicus H. Smith. Himalayan Tahr
Hab., northern India.
The three species of tahr differ from other goats chiefly in the absence of a beard. This species, of which a pair was purchased on March 9th, inhabits forested portions of the Himalayas. The male when adult has a conspicuous, mane-like mass of hair covering the fore-quarters.
7. Macropus antilopinus Gould. Antilopine Kangaroo.
Hab., northern Australia.
The Society was fortunate enough to secure in March a male of this large and fine species, which has probably never before been brought to this country.
8. Onychogale frenata Gould. Bridled Wallaby.
Hab., eastern Australia.
Together with the last-named species, a pair of this beautiful little kangaroo was purchased. On account of their size they were placed in the Small Mammal House, where they have since bred.

     Two examples of the Cuban form of red-winged black-bird were received by purchase in January.
19. Ampeliceps coronatus Blyth. Yellow-headed Mynah.
     Hab., Burma to Cochin China.
     A pair of these birds was added to the extensive series of mynahs in the Aviary by purchase in April.

Hab., Guiana.

One specimen. Purchased August 15th.

24. Tanygnathus everetti Tweed. Everett's Parrakeet.

Several specimens of this fine hawk were received from Brownsville, Texas, in July. They were accompanied by four Harris' buzzards (B. unicinctus).

26. Goura victoriae Frazer. Victoria Crowned Pigeon.
Hab., New Guinea.

A fortunate chance brought about the addition of this species to the collection on May 8th, since which time three species of these splendid pigeons have been on exhibition in adjoining cages.

27. Ardea rufa Bodd. Reddish Egret.

Hab., southern United States to Central America.

Two specimens from Brownsville, Texas. Purchased July 31st.

28. Merganser americanus Cass. American Merganser.

One example was presented on January 26th by Mr. D. W. Herbert, of Philadelphia.

29. Rhynchotus rufescens Temm. Rufous-breasted Tinamou.

Hab., Brazil; Argentina.

A collection from Para, presented by Mr. Harry Nuding, a member of the Society, contained one tinamou of this species, being the first bird of this peculiar order which has been in the collection in recent years.

REPTILES.

Hab., Bahamas.

Four specimens. Purchased July 27th.

31. Lacerta muralis caerulea Eimer. Blue Wall Lizard.

Hab., Faraglione Rock.

Among a number of lizards received June 1st from the Mediterranean region was one example of this beautiful variety of the wall lizard, which appears to be found only upon a rocky islet near Capri.

32. Eutænia elegans vagrans B. & G. Wandering Garter Snake.

Hab., western United States.

One specimen of this garter snake, which is the common species of the Rocky Mountains, was presented by Mr. R. L. Ditmars, of the New York Zoological Society, on May 18th.

33. Eutænia elegans atrata Kenn. Santa Cruz Garter Snake.

Hab., Santa Cruz County, California.

Several examples from Felton, Santa Cruz County, received during the summer, have served to establish the correct relations of this color form*, which is identical with E. infernalis vidua Cope. Its range appears to be restricted to the coast region immediately south of San Francisco.

34. Helicops schistosus Daud. Yellow-bellied Snake.

Hab., India; Malacca.

Three specimens. Purchased May 12th.

BATRACHIANS.

35. Bufo marinus L. Giant Toad.

One specimen received on May 29th, from Seymour, Texas.

Among other accessions of interest was a fine pair of tigers one year old, which reached the Gardens in March, from India.

* Proc. Acad. Nat. Sciences of Philadelphia, 1905, p. 692.

A pair of black and white geese and a brush-turkey (Cathartus lathamii), from Australia, with a pair of secretary vultures, were received in May. None of these had been represented in the collection for many years.

A pair of dingos, or Australian wild dogs, were received on May 15th from the National Zoological Park, in exchange

On May 18th a contribution of reptiles was received from the New York Zoological Society, and in June seven Butler's garter snakes from Sandusky, Ohio, were received from the same source.

A collection from the Amazon, presented by Mr. Harry Nuding, arrived on June 6th; included was a female Brazilian ocelot and several species of toucan. The same gentleman forwarded in August a second collection, chiefly of birds, and on September 21st a fine young male tapir, captured near Santarem, Brazil.

Two star-nosed moles were presented on June 7th by Mr. Robert L. Campbell. It is to be regretted that by no amount of care does it seem that these interesting animals can be induced to live in captivity.

On July 15th an American bison bull two years old was obtained in exchange from the New York Zoological Society, and has been placed with a young cow bred in the Gardens, in an enclosure formerly occupied by elk, at the northern end of the Gardens.

In August two brown bear cubs from Admiralty Island, Alaska, were purchased. These animals are still too young for exact determination of the species, but without doubt they belong to some form of the large brown bears inhabiting that region. The species found in this island has been named Ursus eulophus Merriam, but is only doubtfully distinct from U. dalli of the same author.

A male and female Dorcas gazelle reached the Gardens on September 6th, from Egypt, as a gift from Dr. Henry C. Chapman.

In February a young eyra cat and several snakes from Tamaulipas, Mexico, were presented by Mr. James Spear, Jr.

Births occurred in the collection as follows:—

- 1 wild turkey (Meleagris gallopavo), June 12th.
- 4 silver pheasants (Gennaeus nycthemerus), April 30th.
- 4 mallard ducks (Anas boschas), May 11th, July 26th.
- 5 black ducks (A. obscura), August 2d.
- 2 summer ducks (Aix sponsa), June 7th.
- 6 red-headed ducks (Fuligula americana), July 18th.
- 8 common garter snakes (Eutania sirtalis), July 8th.
- 33 Marcy's garter snakes (E. marciana), July 23d, (21); December 9th (12).
- 11 Say's rattlesnakes (Crotalus confluentus), August 31st.
- 9 ground rattlesnakes (Sistrurus miliarius), August 9th.

The birth of the raccoon-like dogs is of some interest, as the species is not known to have bred often in captivity. On the third day two of the young were killed by the mother, notwithstanding that she is exceptionally gentle. The remaining one, weighing three and three-quarter ounces, was placed with a litter of domestic kittens, with which it was cared for by the cat until July 3rd, when it died. The mother of the Brazilian tapir, bred on July 27th, was taken near Manicoré, on the Madeira River, and reached the Gardens on November 17th, 1904, from Para, as a gift from Mr. Henry Nuding. The young one at birth weighed seventeen and a quarter pounds, and was thirteen inches in height at the shoulder, with a total length of twenty-six inches, including the tail one inch long.

The work of the Laboratory of Pathology has been conducted with vigor through the year and much of exact value has been learned concerning the nature of the diseases occurring in the collection. As a result, stringent methods have been introduced in the direction of detection of disease and hygiene. Careful examination of animals arriving at the Gardens is made, especially in the case of species liable to communicable diseases. No monkey is now placed upon exhibition unless it has successfully passed the tuberculin test, and it is hoped that by the employment of every practicable measure of prevention within the building, including prohibition of feeding by visitors, the occurrence of tuberculosis in these susceptible animals may be brought under control. A temporary result of the rigid system which has been put in practice, is that the collection in the Monkey House is less complete than is usually the case, chiefly for the reason that just at the time when a considerable supply of monkeys was desired, those offered for sale have been few in number and of inferior quality. Of those procured a considerable number have failed to pass the tests and have not got beyond the quarantine room. Before the season is over it is hoped that this part of the collections will be largely increased.

An appropriation of $10,000 for permanent improvements, made by the City Councils through the Commissioners of Fairmount Park, afforded the means for making important additions to the enclosures. A brick house for zebras and wild asses was erected at a cost of $3905. The building measures 48 by 32 feet, and contains six stalls, each with a large outside enclosure.

The old eagle aviary was torn down, leaving only the iron framework, around which was built a large cage for pumas. The central cage is 33 by 25 feet in area, and 24 feet high. A large mass of rockwork covers retiring dens at the rear. A smaller pen occupies each end of the building. At present the eastern end contains three young pumas, too small to be placed with the full-grown ones in the centre. The western end is occupied by Canada lynx. The cost of construction was $4135, and the effect of the installation is entirely pleasing.

Three new sets, containing nine cages in all, were added to the series for birds of prey at the southern end of the grounds, and the upper seal pond, as well as the beaver pond, were each surrounded with new iron fences of improved design.

A large amount of repairs was completed during the summer, including the placing of iron skylight frames over the pens in the Antelope House, and the renewal of a considerable part of the roof surrounding them.

The thanks of the Directors are due to those who have favored the Society with gifts.

By order of the Board,

ARTHUR ERWIN BROWN,

Secretary.
